Elementary Storytelling illustrates how video and audio tools are used to tell a story - a digital story. Curriculum topics chosen by the teacher vary from class field trips to the reenactment of historical or current events.

Some digital stories include the entire class, while others use a smaller group of selected students. Video length is generally 2 to 10 minutes.

Search by Keyword

The screenshot displays the Student Research Center website, powered by EBSCOhost. The header includes navigation links: Sign In, Folder, Preferences, Help, and Exit. The user is identified as FRANKLIN HS. Below the header, there are buttons for New Search, Dictionary, Encyclopedia, and Teacher Resources. The main search area features a Basic Search tab, with links for Advanced Search, Visual Search, Search Other Databases, and Title Lists. A red arrow points to the 'Find:' search box, which is highlighted with a red border. To the right of the search box are 'SEARCH' and 'CLEAR' buttons. On the left side, there is a 'SEARCH BY TOPIC' sidebar with a list of categories: Arts & Media, English & Language Arts, Business, Careers, Current Issues, Health, History, Math, Science, Social Studies, and Sports. A large white box with a blue border is overlaid on the center of the page, containing the text 'Search by keyword'. Below this box, there are two rows of search results, each with a thumbnail image and a title. The first row includes: Magazines (with a green checkmark), Newspapers (with a green checkmark), Books & Encyclopedias (with a green checkmark), Biographies (with a green checkmark), and Radio & TV News Transcripts (with a green checkmark). The second row includes: Country Reports, State/Province, Primary Source, Photos, Maps &, and Film & Video.

Oskar Schindler

Contents

Bibliography

Schindler, Oskar, 1908–74, German industrialist who saved more than a thousand Jews during Holocaust. A Catholic and a member of the National Socialist (Nazi) party, Schindler relocated (1939) to Kraków, in German-occupied Poland, and established an armament factory whose workers included Jewish laborers from Nazi camps. Resolving to save as many as Jews possible from the "final solution," he ingratiated himself with Nazi officials and employed as many Jews as he could get, listing them as skilled industrial workers when they were not (some were children) and housing them in his own facility. In 1943, after the Kraków ghetto was destroyed, Schindler created a safe sub-camp at his factory.

In 1944, as more Jews were consigned to death camps, Schindler drew up a list of some 1,100, as many as he could afford to obtain, and had them sent to his labor camp in Czechoslovakia, supposedly to produce essential munitions. After Russians liberated the camp (1945), its inmates scattered throughout the world, many immigrating to Israel. Schindler, impoverished by his efforts, received aid from a Jewish welfare group, immigrated to Argentina, and later returned to West Germany. Honored by Israel, he was buried in Jerusalem. His story formed the basis for Thomas Keneally's Schindler's Ark (1982, American title Schindler's List) and the subsequent Steven Spielberg film (1993).

The screenshot shows the Searchasaurus website interface. At the top, the logo 'Searchasaurus' is displayed in a green, bubbly font, with 'powered by EBSCOhost' underneath. To the right of the logo are links for 'Search Other Databases', 'Teacher Resources', 'Help', and 'Exit'. Further right, 'EL PASO ISD' is noted. Below the header is a green navigation bar with buttons for 'Home', 'Dictionary', 'Encyclopedia', 'Pictures', and 'Visual Search'. Underneath this are two orange buttons: 'Go Back' and 'Start Over'. The search query 'You searched: Dinosaurs' is shown. A 'Filter results by' section contains five categories with icons: 'All Results' (document icon), 'Magazines' (magazine icon), 'Books & Encyclopedias' (book icon), 'Animals' (animal icon), and 'Pictures' (camera icon). A large red arrow points to the 'All Results' category. Below the filters, the text 'All Results: 1-10 of 847' is shown, along with a 'Sort by: Relevance' dropdown menu. The results are listed on a yellow background. The first result is 'HOP ABOARD THE MONTANA DINOSAUR TRAIL!' by Swanson, Debbie, from Faces (07491387), May/Jun2011, Vol. 27 Issue 8, p22-25, 4p; Reading Level (Lexile): 1100. Elementary Storytelling illustrates how video and audio tools are used to tell a story - a digital story. Curriculum topics chosen by the teacher vary from class field trips to the reenactment of historical or current events.
